

This is what efficient powder coating looks like in practice

Dear ladies and gentlemen, the company Wandel in the German city Rottenburg specialized in electrostatic powder coating about 40 years ago and coats on behalf of suppliers from the mechanical engineering and automotive industry, for example. In the course of time Wandel increasingly invested in automated coating systems to be able to react flexibly to increasing customer demands.

The choice fell on WAGNER. Why? See for yourself:

MANUAL POWDER COATING

How you can coat even the smallest batches efficiently

Often, small batches or individual workpieces have to be coated in different colors at the end of a shift in automatic systems. With the PEM-X1

cup gun and the 1-liter cup extension such quantities can be coated without the use of cleaning and time-consuming system components.
